Country.

Hot Sizzling Letter to Baptist Minister Who Published
Old Fake.

CALLS JUNIORS AND GUARDIANS

The Menace, Peril and other A. P. A. sheets, including the Mountain Advocate, published at Barbourville, Ky., have repeatedly reprinted the stale old canard about Presidents Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley being assassinated by Catholics, and have steadfastly refused to believe the convincing proofs published in the Catholic press from time to time that the stories were false. Every little old two-by-four Junior Order and Guardian of Liberty speaker has shrieked out the same old rehearsed lie from time to time until they have worked into a frenzy their following of dupes and ignoramuses, many of whom will never know any better (not being able to read), while others don't want to know any better, being content to travel through life with a continual grudge against their Catholic fellow-citizens, always being active in some dark-lantern society seeking to create trouble through religious prejudice.

The Baptist press, as a rule and especially throughout the South, has been ever ready to take a fling at anything Catholic, and this weakness was responsible for the awful jolt given Rev. Ben Bogard, a Baptist preacher and editor of the Baptist Commoner, published at Staatsville, Texas, by Dr. Charles M. Cummings, of Williamsport, Pa., who has rendered signal service in the past couple of years by his challenges to the Menace and Peril type of bigots to prove their published calumnies. The Bogard above referred to had been harping on the old story of the three Presidents being killed by Catholics, and had written in the Menace stating that the Cummings expose of this fake was a falsehood. The following is Dr. Cummings' answer, and which has driven Bogard in his hole for awhile at least:

Williamsport, Pa., June 22, 1914.—Ben Bogard, Editor Baptist Commoner, Staatsville, Texas—Dear Ben: Many thanks for your compliments in the Menace of June 20, 1914. Benny, you have another guess coming. I did not even know "Menace Calumnies Refuted" would win the distinguished approval of the Bishop and censor, whose names do such great honor to my pamphlet, until I saw the first copy. No doubt I have the learned, able, aggressive, good Father Lord to thank for securing their distinguished consideration. Nobody but a pig-headed degenerate like myself would object to their granting such an honor if they so desired. Dear Benny, it is never my plan to engage in bickering back and forth with such ignorant bigots as you. There is a much more effective and decisive plan to settle our dispute. Two and two make four; no other number. Either you are a liar or I am. That is a self-evident fact. You say that the Catholics murdered the Presidents, I say you lie; that they were murdered by non-Catholics. From what you say you must have "Menace Calumnies Refuted." Did you see therein that my challenge was open to any bigot? That means you, Ben. Fearing you might not relish the conditions named in those challenges, I will offer you a special, mild one. I will agree to meet you and go to the leading bonding company of Baltimore, there to negotiate two surety bonds one to the other, each in the sum of $25,000. This bond to provide, first: That if I prove to the satisfaction of a majority of three reputable judges, to be equitably selected by us, that Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley were murdered by non-Catholics, I am to get $25,000; if I fail, you get it. Second provision: You shall publish in the Baptist Commoner any denunciation of the victor may word. Third provision: That one defeated shall exile himself to the Isle of St. Helena, there to remain until death.

Now, my dear little bigot, I am sending you this letter by registered mail today, and one to the Menace, also by registered mail. I ask you both to square your consciences just once by publishing it.

Finally, dear little Ben, I don't know what you are. You may be a minister; God pity the ministry if you are. You may be a crow, you have enough black about you for that (with apologies to the crow). I believe you to be an ordinary, scoundrelly, lying bigot; one of the rotund, Pope-eating variety. Cherishing the faint hope that I may get a chance to officially crush this lie, I am, yours,

Chas. J. Cummings, M. D.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The thirty-second annual report of the Society of the Holy Spirit shows a vast amount of work on a small income, totaling only $1,696. Besides its missionary work the society during the past twelve months has prosecuted upon a large scale the work of distributing free of cost and throughout all the United States Catholic books, papers, tracts and leaflets, the total distribution for the year being 476,000 pieces as against 367,000 for the year preceding—excess for the last year 109,000. The work of answering in columns of the secular press, attacks upon Catholic doctrine and Catholic practices has also been continued; numerous communications to the ends in question having been published during the year over the signature of the society. It is the hope that these public vindications have accomplished some good, and that they have in many things informed numbers who could not have been reached otherwise in the interest of Catholic truth.

HAPPY FOURTH.

With perfect weather conditions and the proper patriotic spirit prevailing, thousands of people helped to make the Fourth of July picnic and celebration of the new Catholic Orphan Society for the benefit of St. Vincent and St. Thomas Asylums a success both socially and financially. It was the biggest Independence day celebration held in the city and everybody was happy. Louisville's best known citizenship was in attendance during the day, but once inside the gates no distinction was made. Bishop O'Donoghue, Vice General Cronin and numbers of the clergymen were there and every parish was well represented. There were many booths and pleasant methods were devised to swell the receipts, which will aggregate a nice sum, though the complete returns will not be known before the next meeting of the society. The country store, the dairy lunch, the linen booth, the refreshment stand, the fish pond and other attractions did a vallant business and there was great rivalry. Many prizes were given away, but the committee announced that it would be impossible that night to announce the winners. The new society and its general committee are to be congratulated on the success of their first undertaking, which augurs well for a great society and the future welfare of the orphans. To so many is credit due for the work done that it would be unjust to in any way attempt to summarize. With this foundation there is little doubt but that the Catholic Orphan Society will be given generous and deserved support.

VINCENTIANS.

Last Sunday morning, President John A. Doyle and the officers of the Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society visited the St. Boniface church conference and presented the aggregation papers. The visitors were greeted by a large gathering, which indicates that before long St. Boniface conference will be one of the most active in Louisville. Its officers are: President—Frank A. Geher. Vice President—Henry Ackerman. Secretary—Henry Bosse. Treasurer—John Tobie. Friday night the Particular Council officers met with St. Vincent de Paul Society at St. Peter's church. A number of excellent addresses were delivered and encouragement given the society.

POPE IS WELL.

A Rome cablegram says the Pope is in excellent health. He has started to take morning drives in the Vatican gardens with one of his secretaries in a closed carriage. He breathes the "open air" as he says, and occasionally walks for a few minutes. Usually he drives at an early hour, a comparatively early hour the gardens are not very cold. The halls and corridors of the apostolic palaces with their light ceilings and thick walls are much cooler, and thus there is some danger of the Pontiff suffering from a chill after returning from the sunny gardens. (ie cool temperature) in the corridors where he would prefer to take walking exercise.

MEETING CROWDED.

At the meeting of Division 3, A. O. U., on Monday night the hall was crowded with members, every one having something to say before the proposition for raising the dues and initiation fee was decided. With the exception of a few old members all favored the increase. The purpose of the proposed change is to raise funds in order to employ some capable person to look after the hall and home all the time, and also to be enabled to make needed improvements from time to time. The final conclusion reached was that for the present the dues remain the same, but all members who can will join the Hibernian Social Club, the dues of which are only ten cents per month, and in return the club will take over the work and look after the improvements. A large amount of routine business was transacted and eight applications for membership were presented.

NEWPORT.

The Rev. Father James McNerney, who for more than a quarter of a century has presided over the immaculate Conception parish in Newport, has entered upon the fiftieth year of his priesthood. Thursday of last week was the forty-ninth anniversary of Father McNerney's ordination, and from his friends he was the recipient of many congratulations.

BISHOP CURLEY.

The Rev. J. M. Curley, just consecrated as Bishop of St. Augustine, Fla., is only thirty-five years of age, and is said to be the youngest Bishop in this country.

EDUCATORS

Close Their Eleventh Annual Convention at Atlantic City, N. J.

Brother Julian, of This City, Presented One of Leading Papers.

Declares No Education Worthy of Name That Excludes Religion.

THEY PROTEST AGAINST NATHAN

The Catholic Educational Association held its eleventh annual convention at Atlantic City and completed its work on July 2. The results being most satisfactory to the large and distinguished gathering. Many able and carefully prepared papers were read, notable among the number being those of Brother Julian, of St. Xavier's College; Very Rev. James A. Burns, C. S. C., President of Holy Cross College, and Rev. R. H. Tierney, S. J., editor of America. The purpose of Father Tierney's paper was to show the importance of the notions of truth and being not only in scholasticism but in all modern thought. The author examined the scholastic system bit by bit, showed the place of these two elements therein, and traced their ramifications throughout each branch of the science. He contended that most of the errors of modern philosophy are based on erroneous notions of these two fundamental truths. In support of his statement he cited from the philosophical literature of the day, illustrating his thesis from pragmatism, absolutism, new realism, monism and so on through many authors of many different countries. He then considered miscellaneous literature, essays, magazine articles, novels and the like, pointing out that many of their aberrations were from the same source. In conclusion he insisted once again on the importance of the notion of truth and being, stating that a drilling in both would prevent many men from adopting current pernicious opinions. A paper on English in the High School was read in the morning session by Brother Julian, C. F. X., of Louisville. Brother Julian treated the question from all sides and spoke on elocution and debates as adjuncts in bringing about the desired end of expressive, forcible and correct English. The paper was divided into four sections—spoken English, written English, literature in class and private reading at home. The paper treated exhaustively of a four-year course in English including besides thoroughness in spoken and written thoughts, drills in elocution and debates as a means to bring about the desired end of a course in English.

Before adjourning the convention expressed its appreciation of the treatment received at the hands of Bishop McPaul, Archbishop Prendergast, the clergy and laity of Atlantic City and the press. Among the general resolutions adopted were the following:

We return thanks to our Holy Father for his blessing bestowed each year on this gathering of the Catholic educators of the United States.

As there can be no education worthy of the name that excludes religion, it is to be regretted that in our country primary, intermediate and higher education is imparted without reference to religious training. We note with pleasure that many prominent educators not of our faith are demanding a remedy for this condition.

We rejoice in the rapid growth of Catholic colleges for women, and exhort Catholic parents to send their daughters to those institutions where womanly virtues are developed under Catholic influence.

As State and sectarian universities do not seem fitting places for members of religious communities of women to prepare for college and high school work, we congratulate our Catholic universities and colleges in education and for opening summer schools where women and especially those of religious communities may be taught.

As there is a growing demand for trained social workers and works of charity are becoming more complex and difficult, we view with pleasure the opening of classes of sociology and economics in some of our Catholic colleges and seminaries.

Since we regard the teaching of sex-hygiene in the schools as detrimental to morality and since lectures on this subject given in some schools were so vile that they were excluded by law from the mails of the United States, we urge Catholics in every part of the country to oppose the teaching of sex-hygiene in schools of their communities.

We deplore the frequent introduction upon the stage of sex plays and extend our sympathy and co-operation to the movement in New York of listing those plays that are proper and encouraging Catholic people not to frequent plays where Christian virtue is derided or endangered.

While people of every faith and nationality are welcomed to our land of liberty, we do not believe that Ernesto Nathan, who was responsible for the unjust elimination of religious instruction from the schools of Rome, and who has always manifested bitter hostility toward our Holy Father the Pope, is the proper Commissioner of Italy to the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The prevailing note of sentiment of the convention was to make our schools thoroughly Catholic, which can not be done by simply initiating the public schools and then teaching catechism for a short time, this contention was brought out by the excellent papers not only of the clergy but by those of the Sisters. Members of communities throughout the country will read with deep interest and profit the three papers presented by the nuns, which will appear in the general report. There was little change in the list of officers, but great satisfaction was expressed at the action of Father Francis Howard, who so generously consented to continue in the office of Secretary General.

RECENT DEATHS.

Cornelius Crowley, aged forty-one, succumbed Sunday evening at the home of his niece, Mrs. Henry Heughlin, 822 North Eighteenth street, to an illness of tuberculosis. His funeral was held Tuesday morning from St. Patrick's church, attended by many friends and acquaintances.

Thursday morning death came to Harry Downs, aged thirty-five years, at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Scanlon, 1225 Payne street, with whom he resided. The deceased had many friends who were grieved to learn of his death. The funeral will be held this morning from St. Brigid's church.

News of the death of Mary C. Ballard, beloved wife of William Ballard, 1815 West Kentucky street, was received Sunday morning by her friends and relatives with feelings of inexpressible grief. Mrs. Ballard was twenty-seven years old and had been ill only a short time. Besides her husband she leaves one son, John Ballard, and three brothers and three sisters. Her funeral took place Tuesday morning from St. Peter's church, of which she was a devout member.

EDUCATION HELPS PATRIOTISM.

Just now Rome is full of American prelates, and many more are expected in the next few months. This year the dominant note in the Holy Father's conversation with visiting prelates has been the religious education of children. Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn, in speaking of the religious education of children, said: "The Pope's proverbial love for the young seems to have increased with years. He told me that nothing is dearer to him than the news that a new school or new asylum for children has been opened. He firmly believes that religious education strengthens patriotism and purifies and ennobles ideals in every pursuit of life. He urged me never to forget the children of my diocese and to send him frequent reports." Bishop J. J. Hartley, of Columbus, Ohio, told practically the same thing.

MEN'S FETE AND SUPPER.

A novel lawn fete and supper will be given on the grounds of St. Brigid's church, Baxter and Hepburn, next Tuesday, the admission price being ten cents. This affair will be conducted by the men of the parish, who have been actively at work for some time. The women will have no part in the arrangements, this giving them an opportunity to see what capable cooks and waiters the men are. A genuine Haviland dinner set of seventy-five pieces will be disposed of, the value of which is $75. Refreshments will be served on the grounds, where there will be amusements for all.

MACKIN'S SUNSET.

Everything points to the success of the Mackin Social Club sunset excursion this evening. The committees in charge have worked faithfully, and indications are, weather being favorable, that a very enjoyable time will be had by all who take the ride. There will be music, dancing and refreshments besides other pleasing features. The boat leaves the foot of First street at 5:30 o'clock.

BECKHAM

Candidacy Given Awful Setback
by Stanley Demonstration Here.

Louisville Democrats Especially Pleased to Hear Haley Grilled.

Reasons Why Beckham Con Not Carry the Fifth District.

BARRETT FOR COMMISSIONER

There is no use denying the fact that the local managers of Congressman Stanley's campaign for United States Senator played a strong trump card in the speaking held at the National Theater last Monday evening, which is conceded on all sides to have been one of the representative gatherings at a political affair in Louisville. The character of the audience was entirely high-class, and the music to the accompaniment of the speakers was given by Mr. Stanley throughout the evening, and in addition there were about 2,500 present, which is remarkable considering this is an off year in politics and that none of the three aspirants have ever had anything in common with this city.

The Stanley campaign managers now claim that the success of their Louisville effort assures him of the nomination, his steady gains out in the State only being hindered through the fact that many of his country supporters were awed by the claim of the Beckham managers, who had been predicting an overwhelming majority for their candidate in the cities, and especially in Louisville. Many of Congressman Stanley's leading workers from out in the State were present on the stage, and to say that they were pleased or enthused at his reception is putting it mildly. One of them offering to wager that Stanley would carry this city, so impressed was he with the gathering. One of the amusing incidents of the evening was the spectacle of Percy Haley squirming in his seat under the grilling given him by Mr. Stanley, and he plaintively confided to one of our local legislative representatives "that he couldn't see why he was being roasted so much, that he was not a candidate for any office."

Haley is now able to realize that his brand of politics is not very popular in this section and his attempted dictation in the past in local affairs has made him persona non grata here.

At the outset of this campaign it was contended in the columns of the Kentucky Irish American that there was little, if any, interest in the Senatorial race, the experience of local Democrats in this proving that they would accomplish more by remaining neutral or dividing their strength in primaries for State or local offices. Heretofore they have been pretty near a unit in political contests of this kind, the last instance being in the continued support of Senator Willie James, who since his election has ignored local Democrats entirely in giving out political pie. Gov. McCreary, another favorite of local Democrats, dealt them a body blow by appointing Dan O'Sullivan as Prison Commissioner and Lyne Herndon as Hotel Inspector, both of whom bolted the Democratic ticket in 1909 and were candidates on an independent ticket, this and other appointments of the Governor burning the bridges between him and the Louisville Democracy, as expressed by a prominent leader. As for Beckham, everyone knows that the Haley-Beckham duo has been at daggers' points with the Democrats of Louisville for many years, none believing in the sincerity of the ex-Governor's prohibition views, and many of the opinion that he pursued a dog in the manger policy by not stepping aside for some other good Democrat during the Bradley-Beckham contest, thereby causing the loss of a Senatorship to the Democratic party.

Looking at this race from another angle, it can be summed up this way: Immediately after the last election, and when the prospective Senatorial candidates were mentioned, it was the opinion of Democrats from a local standpoint that, in lieu of the splendid work rendered the municipal ticket in the last election by the Evening Post, no direct fight be made against Beckham as a sort of return courtesy to the Post, and it is believed this policy would have been carried out if Beckham and Haley could have been kept away from this city and not allowed to pretend a good feeling between them and Louisville Democrats. In addition the announcement that W. W. Davies, the Bull Moosers' leading orator in the last election, was appearing in the Beckham cause is adding insult to injury when it is taken into account how Davies at the head of a lot of disgruntled "ex's" termed every supporter of the Buchanmey ticket as a Buckslave, which still rankles in the bosom of some local Democrats. Another mistake was the indication that Edward T. Tierney, of the Board of Safety, would influence city employees to support Beckham, this having just the counter effect. As has been stated before, neither Mr. Tierney or any other man or set of men can influence or dictate to Louisville Democrats when the question of supporting Beckham is an issue. Another unfortunate phase of the situation is that Attorney Edward P. Humphrey, the Beckham campaign Chairman in this district, is especially well thought of in the party, and whom many would delight in assisting in any other cause he espouses but the present one. It is not believed that Mr. Humphrey is responsible for the bringing into the local calcium light of Beckham and Haley, or that other blunder of trying to coerce administration employees into supporting the ex-Governor's cause. Here is the situation in a nut-shell: Nine out of every ten men on being queried as to their choice in the Senatorial race will answer by saying "I have no special choice, but am against Beckham," which means that Beckham can not hope to carry this district in the primary and would seriously endanger the success of the local ticket in November if he is chosen as the nominee.

The supporters of Gen. Bennett H. Young, candidate for the short term, are highly pleased with the success of his campaign thus far, he receiving several big receptions this past week, and with the promise of a big vote in Louisville and Lexington, his managers predict for him a big victory.

Hon. George B. Barrett, Representative in the last General Assembly from the Forty-fifth district, is being groomed as a possible candidate for Railroad Commissioner to succeed "Bully" Klair next year, and many of the leaders have already pledged their support, knowing that his personal following would make him a formidable candidate in either the primary or general election.

SPECIAL DANCE PROGRAMME.

The Committee of Arrangements for the annual reunion and picnic to be given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians at Phoenix Hill Park on Tuesday, July 21, are preparing a musical and dance programme to suit the tastes of all the music to consist of a medley of both the old time songs, which are pleasing to the older folks, and some of the up-to-date light and catchy music for the younger people. The dance hall has been turned over to the Emerald Hibernian Social Club and they are arranging a variety of dances which are sure to prove a novelty, and in deference to the requests of many of the older folks, who have never witnessed it, have included the tango in the list. An old-fashioned quadrille is also included in the list, in which men like George Butler, John Hennessy, Tom Lynch, Tom Dolan, Con Ford, John Sullivan, Tom Tarry, Martin Cusick, John Hession and veterans of the order will trip the light fantastic toe. The popularity of the annual Hibernian picnic was testified to by the remark of one of our oldest citizens the other day, "I wish that I had not missed attending this affair once in the past twenty-seven years, which is quite a record and speaks for itself."

MOURN HER DEATH.

Called away when she could enjoy the company of a grown-up family, relieved of the care and anxiety that good mothers experience in rearing their children, Mrs. Mary Flanagan's death last Sunday evening at her home, 735 West Oak street, caused widespread regret and sincere sympathy for the bereaved son and daughters. Hers was the peaceful death of a devoted Catholic mother, with all the rites of the church received and surrounded by her family. Mrs. Flanagan was the widow of the late John Flanagan, and since coming from Ireland as a girl over fifty years ago had made this city her home. Surviving her are a son, Louis Flanagan, of St. Louis, and two daughters, Misses Agnes and Katherine Flanagan. The solemn funeral mass was celebrated at St. Louis Bertrand's church Tuesday morning, and was attended by friends whose numbers almost filled the edifice.

ORPHAN PICNIC.

The final meeting of Chairmen and committees arranging for the annual picnic and outing for the benefit of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, which takes place Wednesday, July 22, was held Sunday afternoon at the orphanage, attended by all the members. Every Chairman had a favorable report to make and some new features were reported as having been arranged. Meals will be served in the orphanage dining room, which is being equipped with thirty electric fans to insure comfort of the diners. In addition to the above feature the management has provided many more surprises in the way of amusements. A first class bowling alley will be installed for enthusiasts in this kind of sport, and a theatrical feature. This will be one of the largest gatherings of the season, and should appeal to all those who enjoy a real German festival, and with it all aid a charitable purpose.

FEAR AMERICAN CASH.

In the House of Commons, John George Butcher, Unionist member for York City, asked the Government what steps had been taken to meet the danger to the peace of the country, which results from the appeal to Irish-Americans of the Irish Nationalists for funds for the support of the Nationalist volunteers. Premier Asquith made an evasive answer.

ANOTHER NEW CHURCH.

Tomorrow at Brooksville, Bracken county, the cornerstone of the new St. James church will be laid with impressive ceremonies. Rev. Thomas J. Coleman, the pastor, is an earnest worker and is held in high respect by all denominations in Bracken county. Many Catholics from the surrounding cities and towns will attend the ceremony.

MUST COME

Only Two Issues Now Confront Ending of Home Rule Fight.

These Are the Area of Exclusion in Ulster and Time Limit.

Lord Halsbury Gives the Die-Hards Their Death
Blow.

ENCOURAGING THE VOLUNTEERS

There will be much haggling and many moments of peril; sometimes even all the negotiations may seem interrupted and the rupture complete, and finally there is the ever present danger of collision in Ulster, says T. P. O'Connor in his weekly cable, but all the same the general effect of the entire tone and attitude of the House of Lords this week makes everybody believe a settlement of the home rule fight is inevitable. The most eloquent proof of this is the utter collapse of the die-hards. Everybody has repudiated them, including not only Lord Lansdowne, the cold and cautious English leader, but also the Ulster Orange leaders like the Duke of Abercorn and Lord Londonderry. The die-hards got their death blow when old Lord Halsbury, the head and front of the movement against acceptance of the Parliament act three years ago, and the most stubborn Tory in England, urged them to surrender. Thus the second reading of the amending bill, which seemed impossible only a few weeks ago, now is assured in the House of Lords.

The debate which marked the last milestone of Ireland's struggle was studied by frank avowals from every leading Tory Peer that no power on earth could keep the home rule bill from reaching the statute book and that Ireland's demand must be faced and settled. Even the demand for the general election, which appeared in every Tory speech in the last two years, was repudiated by the remarkable speech of the Archbishop of York, now the greatest figure in the Anglican church, as no help toward a settlement—therefore, the debate that Ireland must get home rule and that really the only two outstanding issues are the area of exclusion in Ulster and the time limit.

These are not all the indications that the Tory leaders at last are convinced that the settlement must come, and that the sooner it comes the better for them as well as for the Liberals and Irish. This collapse of the irreconcilable opposition which seemed so definite and obstinate a few weeks ago is attributed to many causes. It is attributed to the immense financial strain the upkeep of the Orange volunteer movement involves; it is attributed to the pressure of English public opinion in favor of a settlement, and finally it is attributed more largely to the National volunteer movement than to any other factor. Of course, the House of Lords will insert impossible amendments, and for the moment they pretend that nothing will satisfy them but the entire exclusion of all Ulster without any time limit, but as a matter of fact what the Orangemen really demand and will strain every nerve to obtain is six counties. But as these six include Fermanagh and Tyrone, where the Nationalists have a majority, this is a point on which the Nationalists can not yield, and on this issue it is certain that prolonged struggle and obstinate haggling will ensue before the terms of the settlement finally are reached. For the moment, however, it is impossible not to feel some anxiety about affairs in Ulster. The Orange leaders it is certain will do their utmost to prevent any disturbances during the twelfth of July celebrations, but there is great exasperation among the Nationalist volunteers who see themselves confronted by the armed Orangemen and who are restive under the constant swaggering provocation of the Orange volunteers.

The Nationalist volunteer movement in the meantime is going ahead with lightning rapidity, and the energy and enthusiasm are increasing every hour. Ireland also shows its inflexible and universal determination that the movement shall be under the guidance of Redmond and his colleagues. Redmond and every Irish member received daily urgent pressure to attend the review of volunteers in all parts of the country. The English and Liberal opinion is equally favorable to the volunteer movement, and the spirited letter from Lady Carlisle inclosing a $1,500 subscription will elicit further responses. The movement now is spreading in England.

The general situation of the Ministry has improved from last week, when the various pressures on the budget raised some perils in the long struggle and frequent divisions on the budget. Now all the ranks of the Ministerial supporters once more are knitted together and next Monday the Ministry will show its determination to push its programme through by introducing a drastic closure for the remaining stages of the budget. Altogether we have not nearer a settlement this week by bigger strides than in any week since the opening of the struggle.

ATTENTION, BIGOTS!

The attention of the editor of the Mountain Advocate, published at Barbourville, Ky., is called to the challenge of Dr. Cummings in our news columns. The Knox county editor, who by the way is the Republican Circuit Clerk, rehearses weekly this old moth-eaten story about the assassination of the three Presidents by Catholics and any old A. P. A. matter he can dig up in order to create prejudice against those of that faith.

INSURANCE CONFERENCE.

Much Catholic interest will be taken in the social insurance conference, the first of its kind to be held in the United States, namely the Conference of Catholic Insurance Fraternals, which will be held in Chicago on September 28. Among the fraternalists that are arranging to participate in this conference are such organizations as the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Knights of America, Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, Western Catholic Union and Catholic Order of Foresters. The conference of such an important group of organizations is bound to produce beneficial results. Catholic workmen in particular are looking forward with high expectations to the conference.

CONDEMNED.

The teaching of sex hygiene in public schools has received a body blow from the National Educational Association, one that should prove effective. This was evidenced at Wednesday's session of that body, holding its national convention at St. Paul, when speaker after speaker denounced such a course and found themselves greeted with ringing applause. Unanimous approval was given the words of Dr. Charles H. Keene, supervisor of hygiene and physical training, who said: "We should have but the strongest condemnation for the wealthy, club-going woman who has not time to teach her child the fundamental truths of life and would throw the responsibility upon a teacher or a football coach. Such shiftlessness is outrageous. Sex instruction placed on the same plane with spelling and arithmetic will rob it of all its sacredness. Knowledge never will compel purity. Sex instruction in schools will but tend to lower the standard of morality. If we take up sex hygiene in our schools the homes of America will continue to lose ground and will give up the few privileges they now have to train the children."

BIBLE AND SCHOOL.

In the paper read at the Catholic Educational Association convention by the Rev. C. J. Holland, of Pawtucket, R. I., on "The Bible and the School," a strong plea was made for the introduction of the Scripture as an integral part of the Parochial school system. In a clear and concise way the reverend speaker maintained that there is, in our day, a vital need of Sacred Scripture, as well for the religious training of our children as for the safeguarding of the sacred text itself.

CURSE OF TODAY.

It is not the raising of wages that will bring better times, far less the destruction of property or the robbery of the rich. All these things, says the Live Issue, have been tried and found wanting in other days. What we want here, and we shall be driven to it by necessity sooner or later, is less luxury, less diversion and more honest labor. Less vulgar display of their riches by the wealthy and more practical consideration and remuneration.

ation of their employees, would help relieve the strain; but less aping of the wealthy by the laboring classes would relieve it even better and more quickly. When the shop girl envies and apes the princess, she enters upon the path of discontent. When the socialist dreamer longs to have the "champagne and the quail" of the rich club man, he may get it, by violence, just once; but after that both he and the plundered millionaire would have to feast on hogs. The French Revolution has proved this. The rush for gold and the rush for rest and pleasure are the curse of our day, for they foster the materialistic spirit, and wean man, God's noblest work on earth, from his true destiny—eternal peace in the future life.

Roy Wilhoit only paid fourteen cents for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Louisville district. Which prompts the New Haven Echo to ask is that not really more than it's worth.

The House of Lords are giving their time to the Irish home rule bill. They propose the exclusion of Ulster and other amendments that the Government can not accept.

The Catholic church asks no privileges, political or otherwise, but she will continue to insist upon having her rights—only this and nothing more.

Religious principles, according to the Christian ideal, can never be excluded from any occupation, activity or interest of a Christian man.

MAKES WILL STAND.

Mrs. Florence A. Campbell's acceptance of the will of her late husband, James Campbell, who left between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000, ends all question as to the disposal of the estate, which under the will is to be held in trust, the income to go to Mrs. Campbell and her daughter Lois during their lives and for twenty-one years thereafter in case heirs survive them. At the end of the trust the estate will go in its entirety to St. Louis University for its medical department. Mrs. Campbell's acceptance is said to make a contest, threatened by Mrs. William H. Harrison of Cincinnati, impossible of success.

SOCIAL CLUB MOONLIGHT.

The Hibernian Social Club will give their annual moonlight excursion on the Steamer Corona next Tuesday evening and are preparing to entertain their usual large attendance. A splendid programme of dance and concert music is being arranged, and those desirous of spending a pleasant evening on the beautiful Ohio would do well to take advantage of this occasion and take their wife, sweetheart or sister to share the pleasure. The Committee of Arrangements are Thomas A. Quinn, John Riley, Matt J. O'Brien, John Hession and John P. Price.

RECOVERERS FROM INJURIES.

Mrs. Mary Mallon, who was seriously injured when a street car ran off the track at First and Jefferson on June 20, is greatly improved and again able to be out. Mrs. Mallon's most painful hurt was to her back, and for a time her condition caused her relatives much uneasiness.

EXCURSION AND OUTING.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., will give its annual excursion and outing next Wednesday at Fern Grove, and the sale of tickets indicates a large and happy gathering. Boats will leave the foot of First street at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and 1:30 in the afternoon. Tickets will be fifty cents, children under fourteen being carried free. There will be dance on the boats and grounds, and also various amusements for the entertainment of old and young. During the afternoon there will be an exciting ball game between the Trinity and Mackin teams of the Twin City League.

SUMMER SCHOOL OPENED.

The Catholic Summer School of America, of which the Very Rev. John P. Chidwick, D. D., is now President, has opened its twenty-third annual session at Cliff Haven, N. Y. The initial attendance was enthusiastic and in good spirits, the guests looking forward to the glory and splendor of a most successful season. Rev. Thomas McMillan, C. S. P., and Right Rev. F. H. Will, D. D., conducted the opening religious ceremonies and exercises.

A TESTIMONIAL.

Thomas F. Dolan, the tobacco man, and John T. Hogan, the operator, who have been taking the rest cure at Sanders, Ky. (wherever that is), are daily sending grocery post cards to their Louisville friends telling of the fun they are having. This daily mail from that section speaks well for the rural free delivery.

SOCIETY.

Miss Elizabeth Buschermohle, of Cincinnati, has been here this past week as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Nellie Buschermohle, who will return with her tomorrow for a week's stay in Cincinnati.

Stephen Keely and daughter, Miss Regina, returned home this week after quite a lengthy trip throughout Ireland and the principal cities in Europe, both having enjoyed the best of health while abroad.

Mrs. James T. Shelley is in Colorado, spending a few weeks in the mountains in the vicinity of Longmont. She is enjoying the trip, and writes that on the Fourth it looked and felt much like there would be snow.

Col. John Featherstone and bride, who was Miss Sallie Hannan, now on their wedding trip, spent the Fourth of July in the surf at Atlantic City, and this week they have been seeing the sights in New York City. They will return home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Welsh and children, Girard and Helen, of Elmira, N. Y., are visiting here as the guests of Mr. Welsh's sister, Mrs. N. T. Hunt, of 1351 South Eighteenth street. From here they will go to French Lick Springs for a ten days' visit. Mr. Welsh is connected with the Kennedy Valve Works in Elmira.

The marriage of Miss Mary Vivian Canary and Prof. Patrick O'Sullivan will be solemnized this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church, Seventeenth and Broadway. Rev. Father Patrick Walsh, the pastor, will perform the ceremony. Both bride and groom are widely known and prominent in musical society circles, and a large gathering of friends will witness their union.

The marriage of Miss Catherine Ecker to George M. Murphy was solemnized Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, with the Rev. Roman Kraemer, O. F. M., officiating. Breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which they departed for West Baden. Albert Fendel and V. K. Ecker, brother of the bride, were the attendants. The bride is the daughter of George J. Ecker, and one of the most popular young women in the East End. Mr. Murphy formerly lived in Owensboro, and is connected with the Falls City Construction Company. Upon their return the bride and groom will make their home in the Villa apartments on Virginia avenue.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Before many years New Castle Council will prove one of Indiana's best.

The movement to erect a national tuberculosis sanitarium will not be pushed at the St. Paul convention.

Thomas Cavanaugh, appointed Postmaster at Woonsocket, R. I., is a charter member of the council in that city.

The Omaha Fourth Degree Assembly, instead of the July monthly dinner, will give the ladies an outing at one of the country clubs.

Upon the arrival home of Cardinal Gibbons announcement will be made of the successful candidates for the Catholic University scholarships.

Interest now centers in the national convention, which will open in St. Paul, Minn., on August 4. The attendance will be the largest since the order was founded.

Supreme Master Reddin has called a meeting of the Rudder Assembly for Thursday, July 30, at St. Paul. This body, the highest in the order, meets every two years.

CHARITY FESTIVAL.

Friends of St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital will conduct a midsummer lawn fete for the benefit of that worthy charity that promises to be a most attractive affair. It will be held on the grounds opposite the hospital and will be attended with every out-door summer attraction, including dinners, suppers, refreshments, amusements for young and old, music, etc. Everything will be done for the pleasure of visitors and it is hoped that many outsiders will show their good will by attending at least one evening. A large variety of goods will be for sale, many of them suitable for holiday and other gifts. It will be a lawn fete that all will enjoy. The dates are July 27 and 28.

ANNIVERSARY.

Tuesday the Rev. Hugh Daly quietly celebrated the twenty-sixth anniversary of his ordination to the holy priesthood. Father Daly, who is one of the best known priests in the State, is pastor of St. James church at Elizabethtown, where he has built up a fine congregation and school.

FONTAINE FERRY.

Fontaine Ferry is now at its zenith and is having its banner season. The excellent vaudeville bills presented by Manager Bilger attract audiences that fill the theater at every performance, while the park is always thronged with people who enjoy the high class free concerts of Natiello and his band and the refreshing breezes from the river. During these hot days the swimming pool is being patronized as never before.

SCHOOL LAWN FETE.

The congregation of St. Columba's church will entertain with a lawn fete on the church grounds, Thirty-fifth and Market streets, on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 4 and 5. The games will be called at 2:30 and 8 o'clock, and the proceeds will be given to the school fund.

DIED AT HIS DAUGHTER'S HOME

By James A. Rooney.
The retirement of Commodore Thomas Aloysius Dornin in 1862 closed the active career of a distinguished Catholic naval officer, who during a service of forty-seven years performed all his duties faithfully and sheduster on the navy, handling some delicate missions and assignments with a tact and diplomacy that won the commendation of the Government. This was particularly shown when he reached the grade of Commander in 1841, in the service he rendered on the petition that successfully prevented the filibuster, William Walker, from embarking with Mexico by invading that country, and also in his subsequent exploits as Captain in 1855 in suppressing the slave trade, then at its height.

He was the son of Bernard Dornin and was born in Ireland in 1800.
He was brought to America when three years old by his father, who was exiled from his native land with Thomas Addis Emmet and Dr. William James McNeven after the rebellion of '98. When but fifteen years of age young Dornin entered the navy as midshipman, being appointed from Maryland. As Lieutenant he made a five years' cruise around the world in 1825, and after his retirement for age he was so physically well preserved that he was placed in charge of the Fifth Lighthouse district, on relinquishing his post he lived in retirement in Savannah, where he died April 22, 1874.

It is claimed for his father, Bernard Dornin, that he was the pioneer publisher in the United States of distinctively Catholic books. Some authorities say that his first book was an edition of the New Testament printed for him in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1805, while others hold that the first book he issued was Pastorini's "History of the Christian Church," and that it was published by subscription in 1807.
The list of subscribers in and about New York numbered 318. In the following year he brought out an edition of Dr. Fletcher's essay on "The Spirit of Controversy," published about the same time in England. He then left New York for Baltimore, where he enjoyed the friendship of Archbishop Carroll, and in 1809 he transferred his publishing business to Philadelphia, where he continued to be the leading Catholic publisher of the country. After disposing of his business on account of old age he retired to his daughter's home in Ohio, where he died in 1836, aged seventy-five years. If he was the pioneer of a new field in New York he did not want for worthy imitators and followers who, with the increase in the Catholic population, finally developed a large and prosperous industry and made New York the producing and distributing point for Catholic publications of all kinds.
The list of Dornin's successors would be a large one, but a few of the early publications may be mentioned.

Matthew Field published the Catholic Lay's Directory with an almanac for the year in 1817 at 177 Bowers.

John Doyle's publishing house was at 237 Broadway in 1823, and he issued many devotional and other books up to 1849, when he became one of the argonauts and emigrated to California during the gold fever.

Butler's "Lives of the Saints" and the Bible in monthly parts were published in 1837 by D. and J. Sadler, followed by their series of Metropolitan School Books, all the works of Mrs. Sadler, which had such a vogue at the time, and the professional rank as the leading Catholic publishers.

Edward Dunigan brought out in 1844 Haydock's Bible, an English translation of the Latin Vulgate, first published at Rheims in 1852 and in Douay in 1609. He also published the early histories of John Gilmary Shea and he took over Doyle's business on the latter's removal to San Francisco.

Patrick O'Shea published Darras' "History of the Church," in four volumes, in 1854, followed by Lingard's "History of England" and Brownson's "American Republic."

These were among the pioneers of the vast army of Catholic publishers who today in every large city of the country issue thousands of volumes from a press that finds itself taxed to the utmost to supply an unceasing and increasing demand for Catholic literature. — Copyrighted.

A MONEY-MAKING OPPORTUNITY

A Stock That Will Pay a Dividend on Its Capital the First Year of Doing Business.

An Investment Safer and More Profitable Than Bank or R. R.
Stock.

We know of a stock that guarantees to pay a dividend on its capital the first year of doing business.
It is an opportunity well worth the attention of every man and woman having $20 or more to invest. This is not a tallman to create a fortune overnight, nor is it a financial scheme designed to end in air. It is a sound business proposition endorsed by bankers and business men.
The stock offered for sale is in a financial organization founded upon the safest business principles. The organizers of the company have been in business for 50 years and are endorsed by bankers and others as men of honesty, reliability and experience in their line.
To those desiring further information in regard to this Company a book has been published, giving a history of its organization and showing the great and profitable field it will occupy.
The book tells of a line of business that has and is paying enormous dividends. It contains most complete facts and figures relating to this particular business and the astonishing dividends paid stockholders. It shows how you may become a stockholder and receive your share of the profits of this great business. The stock of old-established companies in this line is worth from eight times par value, and original investors are receiving from 16 to 100 per cent. dividends.
This is the opportunity of a lifetime to make a safe and profitable investment, and worth the attention and investigation of every conservative investor.
The selling price of this stock will be advanced $2.50 a share in a very short time, and as less than 2000 shares are available at the present selling price, those who wish to take advantage of this opportunity should write at once for a copy of the book.

and a pleasant day for all. Boats will leave First street at 8:45 in the morning and 1:45 in the afternoon, returning at 4 and 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

ST. PAUL'S PICNIC.

The annual picnic of St. Paul's church will take place at Phoenix Hill Park next Monday, and Father York's congregation have been preparing to entertain one of the largest crowds in years. Dinner and supper will be served by the ladies, and as this feature of St. Paul's church picnic in the past has made a great hit special arrangements are being made to give quick service to those coming from town at the noon hour.

GONE TO REST.

In the passing of Rev. M. William Woeste, O. R. C., which occurred on July 3, at the Abbey of Gethsemani, the Clisterians have lost a valued member and the church an aged priest. Father Woeste was in the seventy-ninth year of his age and the thirty-third of his religious life.

"WEARIN' O' THE GREEN."

REVISED.

Oh, Paddy dear, and did you hear the news from London town?
Home rule is ours at last, avic, 'till Judgment day comes roun'.
The curse of penal days is spent to bow us down no more;
We've burst in twain the galling chain that cut us to the core.

Ill fared the land 'neath landlord rule—its sons and daughters fled.
And when the children quit a land, that land is cold and dead.
But now our day has dawned at last and roseate it seems,
So let's forget the night now past and all its ghastly dreams.

Our bones have bleached in ev'ry land, we've warred in ev'ry clime,
On many a gory battlefield we've conquered in our time;
But ne'er a vict'ry sweet as this has fallen to our share, So toast Old Ireland—free at last—and fill the bumper fair!
—Chicago Record-Herald.

ALL DAY OUTING.

The Young Men's Social Club had an all day outing at Wigginton's Station on July 4, with the Shamrock ball club and twenty young ladies as their guests.

SCHOOL PICNIC.

Next Wednesday an all-day picnic will be given on the grounds at Shelby and Oak for the benefit of St. Vincent de Paul's school. Committees have amply provided for all kinds of refreshments and amusements to entertain their friends and patrons and assure them a very delightful day. All should save their coupons, as handsome prizes will be awarded at the close of the day.
Euclre and lotto will be played in the afternoon, followed by a bounteous supper from 5 to 9 o'clock.

NEWMAN'S PROPHECY.

"I contemplate a people that have had long night, and will have an inevitable day. I am turning my eyes toward a hundred years to come, and I dimly see the Ireland I am gazing on become the road of passage and of union between the two hemispheres, and the center of the world—I see its inhabitants rival Belgium in population, France in vigor and Spain in enthusiasm."—Cardinal Newman.

HONOR FOR OLD GLORY.

Old Glory is to flutter continuously all over the land for a week in September. From every State and city Mayor Preston, of Baltimore, is receiving letters from Governors and Mayors stating that they will co-operate with that city in celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the writing of the national anthem by Francis Scott Key. The celebration in Baltimore takes place during the week beginning September 6, and all other cities and States have been asked to have the Stars and Stripes flying from all public buildings, institutions and places of business at that time.

USE LITTLE ICE.

Ice in Ireland is as rare as snakes in Ireland—that is, ice for refrigerat-ing purposes. Consul Wesley Frost, of Cork, says in the Consular and Trade Reports that the opening of a bar in that country advertising iced drinks did not prove successful, and the moderate climate makes the artificial cooling of meats and other provisions unnecessary. The maximum and minimum temperatures taken at Ballinacorra for the month of July, 1913, were 66.7 degrees and 50.8 degrees Fahrenheit respectively.

BIGOTRY NOT ALTERED.

"Do you know that the eye that guides this pen lately saw your mean and profligate Congress at mass for the soul of a Roman Catholic in purgatory, and participating in the rites of a church against whose anti-Christian corruption your pious ancestors would bear witness with their blood."
So wrote Benedict Arnold in the address wherein he proclaimed his revelation. Let us, says the Catholic Citizen, make this appeal and suit it to an attack on President Wilson for attending the Pan-American mass. It fits the case precisely.
Bigotry has not altered in the course of a century. And where bigotry is so inbred, don't be surprised if there be treason also.

FOR LITTLE PAY.

In Amiens, France, there are 1,000 women tailors who turn out ready made suits for twenty cents each.

SCORCH MARKS.

Scorch marks in linen may be removed by rubbing with a fresh-cut onion, the garment being soaked in cold water after.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

The picture shape hats will again lead.
Dark blue is still a favorite for general wear.
Checks have outstripped stripes in popularity now.
Taffetas are a marked success for out-of-doors wear.
Linen and satin are the latest combination in gowns.
Hats are of such bewildering variety that it is difficult to specialize.
Black frocks are the vogue in Paris, while white is preferred in London.
Taffetas and plaited tulle will be used as a foundation for many of the smart afternoon toilettes.
Cotton frocks are made up in extremely long waisted effects, with sashes more floppy than ever.
Ostrich feathers, plain and shaded, are again very fashionable and used as complete hat trimmings.
For outing and tennis the pleated skirt is again coming, the modish thing, made of voile, cotton, silk or linen.
The thin mercerized silky lawns with a dark background and a tiny

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 3 has three members on the sick list.

Division 4 meets Monday evening at Bertrand Hall.

There are two divisions and two auxiliaries in Toledo, Ohio.

Don't forget the Hibernian Social Club's moonlight excursion next Tuesday evening.

Five hundred delegates are expected to attend the Ohio State convention at Toledo.

The County Board met Thursday evening at Division 3's hall and heard reports from the picnic committee.

Members of Division 1 who assembled together Tuesday night had a hearty greeting for County President Connelly.

Those who would become members of Division 3 should do so soon, as the initiation fee will be $5 after January 1.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Pueblo, Col., has taken front place socially through its successful invitation entertainments.

There was a successful initiation last Sunday at Delhi, Ind. Many visiting members from Indianapolis were present.

Boats were run from San Francisco to Schuetzen Park every thirty minutes for the Hibernian Fourth of July celebration.

Considering the object of the annual picnic, the receipts to be given to charity, every member is expected to give able help.

The book shower of Division 3 was quite a success. Each member brought one or more for the library, which is handsomely furnished.

State President Welsh and County President Connelly will leave Sunday morning for Norfolk, where the national convention will be held.

Treasurer Thomas Keenan never misses doing the right thing. This was shown Tuesday night when he took charge of the County President.

The Home Committee met this week to draft rules to be observed in the new home of Division 3. They will be reported at the next meeting.

Division 5 of Indianapolis held a successful initiation. After conferring the degrees on a class of twenty a banquet at the Hotel Severin was enjoyed.

Owing to the extreme heat and small attendance the meeting of Division 1 last Tuesday night was adjourned without transacting any business.

There seems to be an awakening of interest among the members of Division 2. This has been awaited some time past. No division has a better field for work, and before the first of the year its membership should be more than doubled.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

All interest in the Catholic Baseball League will be centered upon Diamond 1 in Shawnee Park tomorrow afternoon, when the Champions and Olympics will meet to settle the tie for first place, which has continued for several weeks, both only having lost one game this season, and this game will go a long way in deciding the 1914 pennant race, as these two teams seem to hold the other six pretty safe. Manager Dan Hennessy's fast coming Trinity aggression will meet Ben Voor's hard hitting Imperials on Diamond 2.
Manager Caffrey's K. of C. team, which still remains in the cellar position, will tackle the Bruins on Diamond 3, while George Thornton's hustlers from Mackinac Council will meet Manager Emmet Hanrahan's Shamrock boys on Diamond 4. Much interest is being manifested in the coming field meet of this league, and it will be a hard matter to settle on the star teams picked from the different clubs, many new ones springing up every week. The standing to date:

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Olympics	10	1	.909
Champions	10	1	.909
Bruins	7	4	.636
Trinity	5	6	.455
Shamrocks	5	6	.455
Imperials	4	7	.364
Mackinac	2	9	.182
Knights Columbus	1	10	.091

INVITE THEIR FRIENDS.

The congregation of St. Francis of Rome church, Payne and Cavewood avenue, Crescent Hill, are inviting their friends and the general public to join them in a lawn fete to be given on the church lawn next Wednesday and Thursday. A number of interesting features have been arranged and two delightful social evenings are assured all who attend.
A splendid dairy lunch will be served each evening from 5 to 9 o'clock. The affair is in the hands of the leading men and women of Crescent Hill, and there should be a large attendance.

GENERAL COMMUNION.

The annual festival of the combined conferences of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of this city will be celebrated on Sunday, July 19, when the members will visit St.
John's church, Clay and Walnut, and receive holy communion in a body.
The general meeting will be held in the afternoon in the hall of the Knights of Columbus on Fourth avenue.

No More Attacks

I feel obliged to express thanks for the good effect which Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic had on our daughter, after she was treated by physicians years and declared incurable, but after she took one-half bottle only of the Tonic the attacks disappeared and no more symptoms since, besides she feels better than before. We are so very glad of such good results, that we hope God will bless the Tonic for the future benefit of others, who may need it. Mrs. Rev. H. Dieter.

Mrs. Ida Damon, of West Upton, Mass., says that she took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic because she did not sleep well since about a year, but then she slept all right and feels better than for a long time.

Mrs. W. Winkler, of Kenterville, Idaho, gave the Tonic to a 4-year-old girl which had also St. Vitus' Dance, and since then it quite well and healthy.

AMERICAN CHRONOLOGY.

Timely Record of Some Memorable Events in the Catholic History of America.

By James A. Rooney.

July 12, 1834—The Right Rev.
Louis Mary Fink, O. S. B., second Vicar-Apostolic of Indian Territory and first Bishop of Leavenworth, Kas., born at Triftersberg, Bavaria; ordained at St. Vincent's Abbey, Beatty, Pa., May 27, 1857; consecrated Bishop of Eucairpa, June 11, 1871; transferred to new diocese of Leavenworth, May 22, 1877; died March 17, 1904.

July 13, 1914—The Right Rev. Joseph Sadoc Alemany, O. P., first Bishop and first Archbishop of San Francisco, born at Vech, Spain; ordained March 27, 1837; consecrated at Rome, June 30, 1850; resigned December 28, 1884; died at Valencia, Spain, April 14, 1888.

July 14, 1893—The Right Rev. Joseph Rademacher, Bishop of Nashville, Tenn., transferred to Fort Wayne as third Bishop; born December 3, 1840; ordained August 2, 1863; died January 12, 1900.

July 15, 1845—First commencement of St. John's College, Fordham, during Presidency of the Rev. James Roosevelt Bayley, afterward Archbishop of Baltimore; after which college taken charge of by the Jesuits, with the Rev. Augustus J. Thebaud, S. J., as first President.

July 17, 1808—St. Patrick's church, Damariscotta, Maine, dedicated by Father John Lefevre Cheverus, then in charge of Indian mission at Pleasant Point and afterward first Bishop of Boston.

July 18, 1826—Diocese of Louisiana divided into the sees of New Orleans and St. Louis, with the Right Rev. Louis William Dubourg in charge of the former and the Right Rev. Joseph Rosati in charge of the latter.—Copyrighted.

LEXINGTON.

The new St. Paul's parochial school building in Lexington is being pushed rapidly and will be ready for dedication some time before the schools open in September. When completed it will be as up to date and practical as any in the State, and one of which the Bluegrass capital may justly feel proud.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

As there was no crown business for disposal at the June Crown Sessions for the division of Donegal, Judge Cooke was presented with a pair of white gloves.

The Longford volunteers are already a credit to the town. The drills, which are attended three nights in the week, are attended by over 500 men. The exercises also include long marches.

The death of James Palmer, owner of the Galway flour mills, removes nearly the last connecting link with the ancient prosperity of the city. Up to his death Palmer was actively engaged in his business.

The death of Rev. M. J. McKeown, Dunleer, is much regretted. The remains were interred in St. Patrick's cemetery, Dundalk, after office and high mass, at which His Eminence Cardinal Logue presided.

The death of the Right Rev. Monsignor P. F. Flynn, of Ballybricken, created general regret. For a period of thirty-two years he was associated with the parish and enjoyed the esteem and affection of his flock.

The Most Rev. Dr. Fogarty, addressing a congregation at Kilkee, referred to the beautiful harbor, the splendid sewerage system near completion, the abundant water supply, and the other holiday attractions of Kilkee.

The Mountmellick Board of Guardians accepted the resignation of Dr. W. Madison W. Fisher, for forty-eight years their medical officer, and the medical officer of health of the Mountmellick dispensary district.

Judge Corry, a farmer, aged sixty-two, residing in Ballydougherty, County Armagh, died in the Newry Hospital from the effects of injuries received by being thrown out of his cart while on his way home from Newry market.

A representative meeting of the people of Ardee, under the Chairmanship of T. McCann, discussed a waterworks scheme for Ardee, at an estimated cost of $30,000. The meeting approved of the idea and a committee was formed to carry it into effect.

A painful sensation was caused recently in Limerick City, where three persons were burned to death.
The names of the victims are John Griffin, John Hall, a native of Loughrea, and Mrs. Mary Butler.
John Hall and Mrs. Butler were guests of Griffin.

The Kilkenny Corporation has passed a resolution expressing delight at the revelation of the Very Rev. R. W. Spence, O. P., to the dignity of Conductor Archbishop of Adelaide, with the right of succession to the see. He was for several years Prior of the Black Abbey.

The house of Mrs. Carthy, Cioncannon, about two miles from Edderry, was completely gutted by fire. The chimney went on fire, and the sparks fell on the thatch, igniting it. The flames spread with extraordinary rapidity. Mrs. Carthy and her three children escaped injury, but they are now homeless.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by the Coroner's jury at Dungannon, County Tyrone, regarding the death of James Devlin, of Stewartstown, an employee of the Great Northern Railway Company, who had sustained fatal injuries on the previous afternoon, while a metal window sash being lifted up on the railway embankment.

RIVERVIEW.

"Senor!" the leader of cabaret entertainers, is making a hit with Louisville amusement seekers who visit Riverview Park, where Col.
Simons is providing diversion for thousands. Besides the free outdoor musicals at Riverview the dancing pavilion is proving a popular place. The floor, which is situated where it receives the breezes from the Ohio, is patronized by crowds every evening.

ST. PAUL TODAY.

The St. Paul team, which has been hugging the cellar position all season in the association race, will be here today to start a series of four games, and the Colonels should be able to retrieve some of the ground lost during the Milwaukee series, the latter tramping all over Louisville and winning whenever they cared to simply by playing better ball and taking advantage of the local's present slump. Right here attention is called to the prediction made in these columns in our issue of April 25, just when seven out of eight critics throughout the circuit figured Louisville, Columbus and Kansas City for the possible pennant contenders, this paper stating that Milwaukee, Louisville and Indianapolis appeared the best, the Brewers and Indianapolis being selected principally on account of their hustling tactics, which is a negative quality with our Colonels. The attendance this past week has been remarkably good, showing the loyalty of the fans, and it is hoped that the Colonels will soon round into their proper form, if for nothing else than to quiet the few persistent quitters and knockers who frequent third base, and one of whom received the richest dressing down from Barbeau on Wednesday that was ever handed out in the park.
